

MURDER MYSTERY CLEARED BY BOY'S STORY OF CRIME

On Tour of Robbery Chin
Lung Was Shot for Resisting Gang of Three.

The mystery of the murder of Chin Lung, a laundryman, who was killed

In his place of business at No. 263 West Thirtieth street, on the night of Jan. 7, was cleared up to-day by the arrest of John Ryan, alias "Yon Yon," seventeen years old, of No. 100 West Thirty-second street, and Thomas Hare, alias McDermott, twenty years old, of No. 41 West Thirty-third street. A youth named Bell, now in the Reformatory, was also implicated in the crime.

Hare has made a confession in which he accuses Ryan of committing the murder. According to Hare, he, Ryan and Bell robbed five laundries and a shoe store at Tenth avenue and Twenty-second street, on the night of Jan. 7. It was very late when they got to Chin Lung's place. The laundryman was ironing in a back room. They asked him for some Chinese nuts. According to Hare, he picked up an iron bar and started for them.

"Ryan was behind me," said Hare to Inspector McConerty. "When he saw the Chin coming, he told me to step aside. I did so, and Ryan shot him. He dropped and we did a get-away."

The task of finding the murderers of Chin Lung was assigned to Detective Lieutenant O'Farrell. He learned enough to warrant him in suspecting Ryan and Hare, and had so far worked up his case as to justify arrests.

Young Ryan was found shortly after midnight to-day in a dilapidated pool room in Tenth avenue near Twenty-third street. The place was crowded with young toughs when O'Farrell entered, and as he grabbed Ryan a free for all fight started. The detective was badly battered up, but dragged his prisoner to the street and called for help.

When Ryan was locked up O'Farrell went after Hare and caught him in bed at his home this morning. Hare was persuaded to make a confession. Bell will be brought to Headquarters from the Reformatory, and it is expected that he will confirm Hare's story of the shooting.

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

The deep, underlying cause of every old sore is a bad condition of the blood. This vital fluid has become infected with some germ or poison which prevents the place from healing. This infection may be the result of an inactive, sluggish condition of the system leaving the refuse matter of the body to be absorbed into the circulation instead of throwing it off through the usual channels of nature. Another cause is the weakening or polluting of this life stream from hereditary taints, or from the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system. When the blood is in this condition a sore cannot heal because the impurities with which the circulation is filled are being constantly discharged into the place to irritate and inflame the tissues and further disease the surrounding flesh. The only treatment that can do any good is one that removes the cause, and for this purpose nothing equals S.S.S. It begins at the fountain head of the trouble and drives out all germs, impurities and poisons, and then the place, being supplied with rich, pure blood, heals naturally and permanently. Local applications assist in cleansing the place, but a cure can only be effected through a purification of the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free.
